Background

Idd Aziz's passion for music begun at the early age of 13 which followed by him touring the world at the age of 15, inspired by his father, Idd Aziz has been placed on this planet to inspire positive change and awakening through his music and performances. Idd understands that a great way to uplift society is through quality conscious music. He has spent most of his life training for this. Idd Aziz's combination of the expressive, compassionate and the soulful creates a unique sound for the musical market worldwide.

Introduction xx

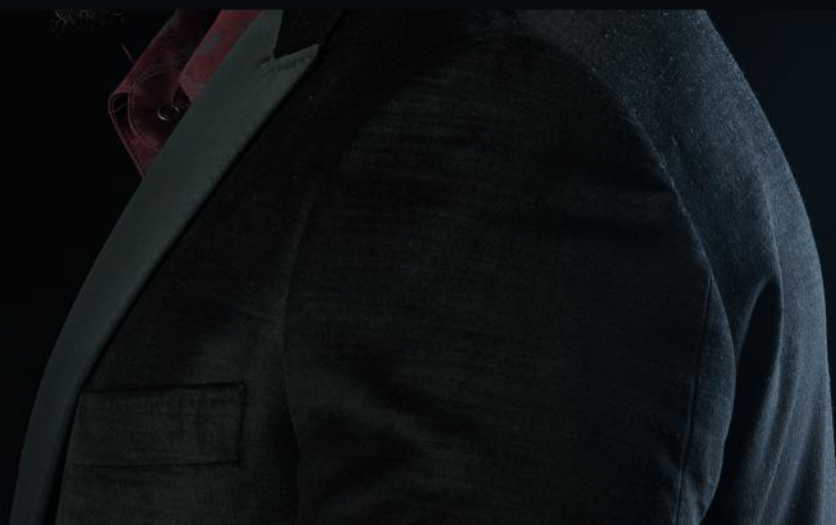

He is a talented Kenyan Afro- Fusion and Afro- House singer, songwriter and performer. Idd Aziz is renowned for his hit song “Come Dada” featuring the OG Khaligraph. His music defines a combination of the expressive, compassionate and soulful rhythms that creates a unique sound for the musical market worldwide. Idd’s versatility has been evident with his recent Afro- House tracks that have seen him rule the airwaves in Europe and South Africa.

Career

Prior to starting his official musical career in Kenya, Idd Aziz was based in Trondheim, Norway where he performed with several bands while sharpening his skills. The bands played at the city's major festivals and events as well as booked residency gigs at top hotels and clubs. Some of Aziz's singles include –Kiswahili, Nipende Mimi, Vale, Come Dada ft Khaligraph among others.

Music Interest

Idd Aziz has performed at various festivals around the world and has also shared the stage with notable legends in the entertainment industry known world over such as Angelique Kidjo, Salif Keita, Alpha Blondy and Youssou N'dour. He was also part of the Kenyan delegation of artistes who performed at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival in Washington DC in 2014. In 2017, Idd was privileged to be part of the Coke Studio Africa as a percussionist. He prides himself in singing in his native language and a mix of Kiswahili as is evident in his debut album “Africala” meaning Great Africa.

Performances
